

CARTER AND SHOUP READY TO BOLT.

Two Western Senators Will Soon Cease to Be Republicans.

WILL FIGHT FOR SILVER.

Their States, Montana and Idaho,
Strong for the White Metal.

Washington, June 23.—A scene as sensational and almost as dramatic as that presented in St. Louis when Teller led the silver hosts from the Republican ranks will be enacted in the Senate before the session reaches its final adjournment. Senator Carter, of Montana, ex-chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Senator Shoup, of Idaho, will renounce their allegiance to the Republican party and declare themselves as ready to support the principles of the free silver Republicans. They will come out squarely for the free coinage of silver, and will sharply and clearly separate themselves from the party with which they have heretofore been identified.

This act will be the culmination of a series of moves now being made by these men. Both have been for some time past that the practically unanimous free silver sentiment in their respective States has been such as to make it necessary to their political salvation that they mould their political fortunes upon the tenets of the free silver Republican platform. They have not been blind to the significance of events in Idaho, Montana and the adjacent Western States, nor have they failed to note the effect of votes against the Pettigrew anti-trust amendment and the Cannon amendment providing for an export bounty on agricultural products. Both these measures brought to their authors increased popularity in their respective States, and the comments that have reached Senators Carter and Shoup have given them cause for deep thought.

The first public indication of Senator Carter's intention was given when he broke away from the caucus agreement and voted against the other Republicans for free matings.

Carter Is Dissatisfied.
Senator Carter today stated that he was very much dissatisfied with the way his constituents and the people of the West generally were being treated by those responsible for tariff legislation.

"Of course, nothing can be said at this time," he remarked, "as the bill is not a finality, but there are indications that it will deal unfairly with the people of the West. The wool schedule has not been decided upon, but in its present state it is anything but satisfactory."

Through Mr. Carter's talk there was noticeable a tone of discontent and dissatisfaction with the work of his fellow Republicans. From this time on he will en-

SHE'S A DIAMOND "QUEEN."

OF the twenty-eight years of life that Kittie Wells acknowledges six or seven have been passed "on the levee" at Chicago. She has been arrested many times for picking the pockets and stealing the jewels of visitors. In February last she was indicted for grand larceny, then being accused of the theft of a diamond pin valued at $100. At the time set for her trial Miss Kittie was absent and photographs accompanied requests for her arrest that were sent throughout the country.

Yesterday morning she was arrested near Forty-second street and Broadway, this city, and committed to the Tombs, with bail fixed at $2,000. She declared she is only visiting in New York and would have been in court in Chicago had her attorney informed her of the date fixed for her trial.

deavor to secure every concession possible for the people of his section, but when the time comes for his theatrical exit from the ranks of the Republican party he will give as pretext and excuse the denial of sectional favors asked by him while the bill was being considered in the Senate.

Should the cent and a half duty on lead be stricken out he will base his desertion from the Republican ranks on that omission to provide for his constituents the same measure of protection granted the people of other States.

After he has made the announcement of his intention he will go before the people of his State and defend his action on the ground that he has demonstrated to his own satisfaction the hollow insincerity of the Republican party. He will state that he remained with the party as long as possible and only broke with his fellows at a lifetime on finding that he could no longer serve the best interests of his constituents by remaining in line with the Republican party. He will also declare himself in favor of the immediate and unlimited free coinage of silver as the only remedy for existing evils. The latter move has been made absolutely necessary to the maintenance of the political supremacy in Montana.

Shoup to Follow Carter.
Senator Shoup will follow him in every move, and will be his ally in this second Senatorial revolt in the Republican ranks.

There were many conferences in the Capitol today. Senators Carter, Quay and Perkins spent an earnest hour together in consultation, while Shoup conferred for the same length of time with Senator Cannon, of Utah. Later Senator Carter had a long conference with J. S. Clarkson, manager of one of Harrison's campaigns for the Presidency.

Senator Carter's departure from the house of the Republicans will be made as

HANNA'S HAND IN MR. QUAY'S WOOL.

Finance Committee Rejects
the Pennsylvanian's Schedule.

OHIO GROWERS ARE SAFE.

But Philadelphia Carpet Makers,
Says Their Senator, Will Be Ruined by the Duty.

Washington, June 23.—The Republicans of the Finance Committee were able to get together this morning and Senator Quay was knocked out on his wool proposition. He means now to carry the fight before the conferees and expects to win there. He says the duty as it now stands means the ruin of all the carpet manufacturers of Philadelphia.

Senator Foraker was able to have the committee come to his view of the wool question, and the woolgrowers of Ohio are now expected to stand by Senator Hanna in his campaign this Fall. It was a great victory for the Ohio Senators, for the Senator from Pennsylvania is no mean foe.

In addition to discussing the will schedule today Mr. Bryan was attacked and defended. Later in the afternoon Senator Hoar saw an opportunity to deliver a small lecture to Mr. Maule and the other silver Republicans of the Senate. He did so by telling them what would have happened to the tariff if Mr. Bryan had been elected. He told them that Mr. Bryan would have vetoed such a measure as was then before the Senate, and especially the wool schedule. Senators Stewart and Allen came to the rescue, and Senator Quay, to shut off debate, moved to lay the motion before the Senate on the table.

Senator Teller wanted to say something, but was shut off for the moment by this parliamentary proceeding. But he only had to wait a few minutes until the roll call was finished. Then he made a few remarks which struck Senator Hoar dumb and made the Democratic side smile all over.

Senator Teller said he did not complain of the statement made by Mr. Hoar concerning the position Mr. Bryan would have taken had he been elected. Mr. Hoar over-thought so, and that was all right. He did object, however, to the Republicans challenging silver Republicans by such statements and then trying to shut off all chance of reply. He wanted to say plainly and in a way that would not be misunderstood that this sort of matter must stop.

He did not propose that Republicans should open a political discussion and then shut off reply by claiming that the tariff bill was being delayed. Hereafter if one Republican opened his mouth on a political challenge they might expect to hear from him. He wanted the Republicans to have passed several weeks ago, if the Republicans had so desired. He, for one, thought that the Republican leaders were not ready for the bill to pass and would be glad if something could happen to throw it off. It would not bring prosperity and the Republicans knew it.

Notice for a Republican caucus tomorrow has gone out. Some conclusion must be reached on the remainder of the wool schedule or there may be open trouble at any minute. Then several questions relating to the leather duties must be talked over. Hides are to be regulated and the reciprocity paragraph is to be prepared.

NOW HANNA NEEDS ONLY ELECTION.

Ohio Republican Convention
Names Him as His Own Successor.

SCHEDULE CARRIED OUT.

Senator Makes a Speech, and Says McKinley Is Doing
the Best He Can.

Toledo, Ohio, June 23.—The scheduled programme of the State Republican Convention was easily carried out today. Hanna was formally endorsed as Senator to succeed himself and Governor Bushnell was renominated.

With the contest for the chairmanship settled so decisively yesterday in favor of Major Dick and the entire Hanna slate, the convention proceeded promptly at 10 o'clock this morning with the usual business. The temporary organization, with General C. H. Groves in the chair, was made the permanent organization, and the reports of the committees were readily disposed of.

Hanna's Indorsement.
The platform, which was unanimously adopted, indorsed the contemplated annexation of Hawaii, the Bushnell administration and concluded as follows:

The thanks of the people of this State are due to Senators Foraker and Hanna for their splendid efforts during the present session of Congress, and we congratulate the people on their re-election in the United States Senate.

Desiring to continue such representation, and appreciative of his services to the party and to the people of the State and nation, and his eminent and proved fitness for the position, we endorse the candidacy of the Honorable Marcus A. Hanna for United States Senator to succeed himself, and pledge the support of the party in the next General Assembly to his election to both the short and long terms.

The mention of Senator Hanna's name was greeted with loud demonstrations, and after the resolutions were adopted Senator Hanna was called for. He said the Republicans had been warned that this was a dangerous year. He joined in accepting the challenge. The Republicans of Ohio always fight best when there is danger ahead, and he, the opposition propose to stir up the once thrashed straw. They will revive free silver in Ohio, but never again free wool.

Speaks Well of the Tariff.

Mr. Hanna further said: The Republican party in Congress, appreciating the fact that the responsibility of lifting this country out of the very depths of despondency in its business arrangements rests upon it, have carefully prepared and are now in the act of making a law which will be the most scientific, the best-balanced and the most just tariff law that this country has ever known and in this presence, I desire to publicly thank your honorable chairman for the part he has taken in that work. To him, more than any other of the Ways and Means Committee, is due this ample protection on wool. I am trying to keep up with him in the Senate, but I have not got there yet.

A word about the administration. I would not feel that I had accomplished what to me is the greatest pleasure unless I accept this opportunity of speaking of our distinguished chief, President McKinley. I want to assure the Republicans of Ohio that he has only filled their greatest expectations, but he has more than filled the expectations of the whole country and the nations of the earth. Great now as the leader of men, he has grown with every opportunity, grown by meeting every conflict which comes to a nation's leader; possessed of a great heart, which beats for the American people and which will always beat for those who look to him for leadership and protection of the country, it is my pleasure to say that the President of the United States has won golden opinions from every party, every class of citizens, and is better able to justify not only the predictions of his friends, but the hope of every body.

Plends for Unity.
In the opening of this campaign I want simply to say one word: That the secret of all success is unity of purpose, devotion to party and last, but not least, organization. I don't need to give the Republicans of Ohio any advice on that statement, but I am prepared to join hands with our distinguished Governor and with him take my place in the front ranks and from start to finish I am with the boys.

Governor Bushnell, Lieutenant-Governor Jones and Attorney-General Monnett also addressed the convention in accepting their respective nominations.

Immediately after the adjournment of the convention the new State Central Committee organized, with Harry M. Daugherty as chairman, C. R. Fisher as vice-chairman and Peter Durr as secretary. Daugherty and Durr are Hanna and Dick men. Fisher was a Kutz man in the contest for control of the committee.

Three Iowa Conventions.
Des Moines, Iowa, June 23.—Three conventions were held here to-day—the free silver Republican, the Populist and the Democratic.

The free silver Republicans had little trouble in agreeing. A resolution was adopted agreeing to use the name "Democratic" for the fusion ticket this year on account of the Anti-Fusion law. The Conference Committee on Fusion was headed by Judge Spurrier, who wants a free silver Republican for Governor. Each party adopts a separate platform.

The Populists, however, will not agree to fusion, and the convention to-day had a lengthy wrangle over the basis of representation. A. W. G. Weeks led the middle-of-the-road men, demanding that the basis should be on the vote for Crime for Governor in 1895 instead of Weaver for governor in 1890, because the latter did not represent the Populists, but the Democrats also. Paul deponism reigned for an hour. Attempts to howl Weeks down failed, but his motion was declared laid on the table by a very close vote.

The majority is in favor of fusion, but Weeks declares he and his followers will withdraw from the convention if fusion is agreed to. They number at least one-third of the convention.

State Chairman M. F. Healy, of Fort Dodge, called the Democratic State Convention to order to-day. The announcement that ex-Congressman Fred E. White, of Keokuk, the leading candidate for Governor, would preside as temporary chairman was received with cheers which increased when a large picture of William J. Bryan was unfurled at the rear of the stage. Three cheers were given for Bryan and Mr. White made his address. His speech was well received, and especially the references to socialism and the policy of the Republican party in favor of a centralized government. Bryan's picture and every mention of his name brought tremendous applause.

DIPLOMATIC PLUMS FALL.

Thomas C. Dawson, of Iowa, to Be Secretary of Legation at Rio de Janeiro.

Washington, June 23.—The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate: Thomas C. Dawson, of Iowa, to be secretary of legation at Rio de Janeiro, and to be Consul of the United States; Walter J. Hoffman, District of Columbia, by Mannheim, Germany; Brahmard H. Warner, Jr., of Maryland, at Leipzig, Germany; Albert W. Swalm, of Iowa, at Montevideo, Uruguay; and Edward H. Thompson, of Massachusetts, at Progreso, Mexico.

The Senate confirmed the nominations of Walter Schmitt, of New York, as Consul at Mayence, Germany; John G. Foster, of Vermont, as Consul-General at Halifax, N. S.; and Theodore E. O. Matthews, to be Rear Admiral.

KILBRETH DIES OF PNEUMONIA.

Collector of the Port Passes Away at His Southampton Home.

HAD BEEN ILL FOR A WEEK.

His Strength Held Out Well,
but He Could Not Overcome the Disease.

Collector of the Port James T. Kilbreth died at 6:30 last evening at Southampton, L. I. After a bad night he rallied yesterday morning, but began to sink again, and at 5:30 the doctors agreed he could not live much longer. He had been ill for a week with pneumonia. To this was added stomach and liver trouble. Up to Tuesday night the doctors had hopes of saving him, as his strength was well manifested. His family was at his bedside when he died.

James Truesdell Kilbreth was born in Cincinnati fifty-six years ago. He was a graduate of Harvard and came to this city to practice law. In 1873 he was appointed a police justice for ten years by Mayor Havemeyer, and in 1883 he was reappointed by Mayor Edson. His second term expired in January, 1893, when he was succeeded by Justice Koch. He then resumed the practice of law with the firm of Oudin & Oakley.

When the County Democracy was organized in New York Mr. Kilbreth joined it. From 1881 to 1891 he was its vice-president. He was always an anti-Tammany Democrat.

In July, 1893, he was appointed Collector of the Port of New York by President Cleveland to succeed Francis Fredericks. Mr. Kilbreth was a warm personal friend of William K. Grace and Charles S. Fairchild. For years he had spent his Summer months at Southampton with his family.

It was while practicing law in the office of O. P. C. Billings that he cultivated a taste for politics. He was a classmate of Mr. Fairchild at Harvard, and it was conceded that his appointment as Collector was largely due to the influence exerted by his college class.

About thirty years ago he married the widow of Professor Odu, of the College of the City of New York. He leaves a son, James T. Kilbreth, and six stepdaughters.

Drew Dead Men's Pensions.
Harry S. Shields, a clerk of the local pension agency, was arrested yesterday on a charge of complicity in swindling the agency out of $424 by means of a voucher for back pension purporting to be signed by Charles Mallory, long since deceased. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Alexander and held in $4,000 bail for examination on Saturday. Similar swindles aggregating $1,300 have been unearthed and more arrests are looked for.

The D. L. & W. R. R. now run through sleeping cars and day coaches New York to Chicago without change.—Adv.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS.

No business enterprise can become the leader of its class unless the commodity which it furnishes to the people is also a leader. The Pabst Brewing Co. endeavors to brew the best beer which the world knows. Their facilities and the training of their employes are unequalled in the entire industry. Their natural surroundings are correct for the production of a perfect beer, and the result is so well recognized that they have grown to the tremendous magnitude shown below.

The daily shipment of Pabst Beer during the Summer months is upward of seventy-five carloads, and in Winter in proportion. The Pabst Brewing Company is in all respects the greatest of any lager beer brewery in the world. The sales amount to 1,000,000 barrels and the number of bottles to 44,000,000 annually. In the manufacture of this enormous quantity of beer about 2,261,000 bushels of malt and 1,335,000 pounds of hops are consumed. The floor space used by the company is nearly 34½ acres. The large ice machines produce the equivalent in cold of 2,200,000 pounds of ice per day. The number of people directly and indirectly dependent upon the Pabst Brewing Company for support was stated on the floors of Congress to be 28,000, and this fact established nearly six years ago. The actual number directly on the pay rolls approximates 3,000.

The Pabst Brewing Company has won its reputation by brewing good beer, brewing pure beer, brewing beer which is acceptable to the public. It has an immense advantage in the magnificent quality of the water, which is drawn from Lake Michigan, 10,000 feet from shore, and 70 feet below the surface. All first-class hotels, restaurants and cafes and the leading grocers keep Pabst Milwaukee Beer. Make sure that the beer that is served to you comes from Pabst.
